

Berkshire Trivia Game Night!

Egremont Free Library

Tuesday, October 7

6:15 p.m. to 8 p.m.

How much Berkshire trivia do you know? Test your knowledge below...

Question: The first transatlantic cable message from London was not sent to Boston or New York, but to a small law office in what town?

Question: Political controversy was already brewing in Great Barrington in 1771 when Dr. Latham introduced an inoculation to prevent what disease that had decimated some American towns?

Question: Marcus Rogers, a newspaper innovator from Pittsfield, Great Barrington and New Marlborough, made a fortune by inventing a device that made newspapers easier to ship and to read. What did it do?

Question: From East Street in Mount Washington you can hike an old fire tower road past Guilder Pond to the summit of what prominent 2,602-foot Taconic peak?

Love the Berkshires Quiz Game has more than 2,300 questions, a game board and playing pieces. Join us if you know the Berkshires or want to learn more! The game book was compiled by Phil Smith of Lee, MA in 2010.

Please register so I know how much apple cider, water and goodies to offer.

You can email EGRLibrary@egremont-ma.gov or call me at 528-1474 to sign up.